Version 2.0 - Updated for Framework v4.2 (November 27, 2025)

Unit 4: Parts of Speech 2 (Lessons 11-15)

Lesson 11: Subject, Main Verb and Object Pupils learn to identify the subject (who or what the sentence is about), the main verb (what the subject does), and the object (who or what receives the action). They discover how these three elements work together to create meaning in sentences, building on their noun and verb knowledge from earlier lessons.

Lesson 12: Adjectives Pupils explore words that describe nouns. They learn how adjectives help readers create pictures in their minds and make writing more interesting. Pupils practise adding adjectives to their writing to give readers clearer information about the nouns they're describing.

Lesson 13: Adverbs Pupils discover words that tell us when, how, where or why something happens. They learn how adverbs add important details to verbs, making their writing more specific and interesting. Pupils practise using adverbs to help readers understand exactly what happened in their stories.

Lesson 14: Pronouns Pupils learn about words that can replace nouns so writing doesn't sound repetitive. They discover different types of pronouns (like I, you, he, she, it, we, they) and practise using them correctly. Pupils learn when to use pronouns and when to keep using the noun to make their meaning clear.

Lesson 15: Prepositions Pupils explore words that show relationships between other words, especially showing where things are or when things happen. They learn common prepositions like in, on, under, before, after, and beside. Pupils practise using prepositions to give readers clear information about time and place.

Unit 5: Reading Comprehension (Lessons 16-17)

Lesson 16: Retrieving Information from Text Pupils learn how to find specific information in texts by using their grammar knowledge. They practise skimming (reading quickly for main ideas) and scanning (looking for particular information). Pupils use question words (who, what, where, when, why, how) to locate answers in texts systematically.

Lesson 17: Understanding Word Meaning in Context Pupils learn strategies for working out what unfamiliar words mean by using clues from the surrounding text. They discover how to use grammar knowledge and context to understand new vocabulary. Pupils practise explaining what words mean and how they know, developing their reading comprehension skills.

CHAPTER 2: Sentences

Unit 6: Sentence Types (Lessons 18-19)

Lesson 18: Statements and Questions Pupils learn about two important sentence types: statements (sentences that tell us something) and questions (sentences that ask us something). They discover how punctuation changes (full stops for statements, question marks for questions) and learn about capital letters. Pupils practise writing both types of sentences correctly.

Lesson 19: Commands and Exclamations Pupils explore commands (sentences that tell someone to do something) and exclamations (sentences that show strong feelings). They learn how these sentence types use different punctuation and often start differently from statements. Pupils practise writing commands and exclamations for different purposes.

Unit 7: Phrases and Clauses (Lessons 20-22)

Lesson 20: Phrases Pupils learn that phrases are groups of words that work together as a single unit in a sentence. They discover different types of phrases (noun phrases, prepositional phrases, adverb phrases) and understand that phrases don't have both a subject and verb. Pupils practise identifying and creating phrases to add detail to their writing.

Lesson 21: Clauses Pupils discover that clauses are groups of words that contain both a subject and a verb. They learn to find clauses within sentences by looking for these two essential elements together. Pupils practise identifying clauses and understand that every sentence must have at least one clause.

Lesson 22: Dependent and Independent Clauses Pupils learn the difference between independent clauses (can stand alone as sentences) and dependent clauses (need more information to make sense). They discover subordinating conjunctions as clue words that often start dependent clauses. Pupils practise identifying both types of clauses and understand how they work together in complex sentences.

Unit 8: Simple Sentences (Lessons 23-26)

Lesson 23: What is a Sentence? Pupils learn that sentences must have both a subject and a verb to be complete. They discover that sentences express complete thoughts and understand the difference between sentences and fragments. Pupils practise recognizing and creating proper sentences using the subject + verb pattern.

Lesson 24: Simple Sentences with Different Lengths Pupils discover that simple sentences can be short or long, as long as they only have one clause. They learn that adding details (phrases) expands sentences without making them complex. Pupils practise creating simple sentences of different lengths by adding when, where, how, and which details.

Lesson 25: Different Ways of Forming Simple Sentences Pupils explore various patterns for creating simple sentences beyond just subject + verb. They learn patterns including subject + verb + object, subject + verb + adverbial, and subject + verb + object + adverbial. Pupils practise using these different patterns to create variety in their writing while keeping sentences simple.

Lesson 26: Paragraph Structure (UPDATED) Pupils learn how sentences work together to form paragraphs. They discover that paragraphs have three parts: topic sentences (that introduce the main idea), supporting sentences (that give details), and concluding sentences (that wrap up the idea). This lesson prepares pupils for the Connect Grid planning tool they'll learn in the next lesson, bridging sentence-level work with paragraph-level organization.

Unit 9: Paragraphs (Lessons 27-34)

Lesson 27: Introduction to Connect Grid (UPDATED) Pupils learn the Connect Grid, WriFe's special planning tool with three columns. They discover how to analyze a story opening by identifying what happens (Column 1), finding reusable patterns (Column 2), and picking out key words with their word classes (Column 3). Pupils learn that Column 2 patterns are like templates they can use to plan their own stories later.

Lesson 28: Using Paragraphs Effectively Pupils explore why writers make different choices about how to organize paragraphs. They discover that sometimes single sentences stand alone as paragraphs for emphasis. Pupils learn to identify a writer's theme or objective and understand why certain information is grouped together in paragraphs. They continue using Connect Grids to analyze complete stories with beginning, middle, and end.

Lesson 29: Developing Paragraphs with Details Pupils learn how to develop paragraphs by adding supporting details to topic sentences. They discover different types of supporting details including examples, explanations, descriptions, and facts. Pupils practise building complete paragraphs with enough detail to fully develop their main ideas.

Lesson 30: Paragraph Unity and Coherence Pupils learn that good paragraphs stick to one main idea (unity) and that sentences flow logically from one to the next (coherence). They discover how writers use connecting words and repeated key words to link sentences together. Pupils practise writing paragraphs where all sentences relate clearly to the main topic.

Lesson 31: Writing for Different Paragraph Purposes Pupils explore how paragraphs can have different purposes: to describe, explain, persuade, or narrate. They learn that the purpose affects what kind of details writers include and how they organize information. Pupils practise writing paragraphs for different purposes, matching their content to their aim.

Lesson 32: Organizing Multiple Paragraphs Pupils learn how to organize several paragraphs to develop larger ideas. They discover that each paragraph should introduce a new aspect of the overall topic. Pupils practise planning multi-paragraph texts by deciding what each paragraph will focus on and how paragraphs connect to each other.

Lesson 33: Transitioning Between Paragraphs Pupils explore how writers connect paragraphs using transitional words and phrases. They learn different types of transitions for different purposes (adding information, showing contrast, indicating time order, showing cause and effect). Pupils practise using transitions to help their writing flow smoothly from paragraph to paragraph.

Lesson 34: Revising Paragraphs for Effectiveness Pupils learn strategies for improving their paragraphs through revision. They discover how to check for clear topic sentences, adequate supporting details, and effective concluding sentences. Pupils practise evaluating and revising paragraphs to make them stronger and more effective.

CHAPTER 3: Planning and Drafting

Unit 10: Planning (Lessons 35-38A)

Lesson 35: Five-Part Text Analysis (UPDATED) Pupils learn to identify the five parts of stories: Opening, Build-up, Problem, Resolution, and Ending. They practice breaking down complete stories into these five sections and understanding what happens in each part. This lesson prepares them for the detailed text analysis they'll do in the next lesson.

Lesson 36: Detailed Text Analysis (UPDATED) Pupils use the full Connect Grid to analyze published stories in detail. They complete all three columns for each of the five story parts, discovering patterns in how stories are structured. Teachers emphasize that the Column 2 patterns are templates that can be reused, preparing pupils to adapt these patterns for their own stories in the following lessons.

Lesson 37: Summary Writing and Adaptation Preview (UPDATED) Pupils learn to write summaries of stories using their Connect Grid analyses. They practice condensing full stories into brief summaries that capture the essential elements. At the end of the lesson, teachers introduce the adaptation concept, showing how Column 2 patterns can be kept while changing the Column 3 details to create completely different stories.

Lesson 38: Adapted Story Planning (UPDATED) Pupils use Column 2 patterns from analyzed stories to plan their own new stories. They learn to keep the story pattern (Column 2) while changing the characters and actions (Column 3) to create their own unique story. Pupils discover that the same pattern can tell many different stories, and they complete a full adapted story plan ready for drafting.

Lesson 38A: Independent Story Planning (NEW - OPTIONAL CHALLENGE) Pupils who have mastered adaptation in Lesson 38 can try planning completely original stories using blank Connect Grids. They create all three columns from their own imagination without using any template. This optional challenge lesson is for pupils ready to plan independently, though it's not required before moving on to drafting in Lesson 39.

Unit 11: Developing a Story (Lessons 39-41)

Lesson 39: Planning a Piece of Writing Pupils now plan their own original stories using the Connect Grid planning tool. They develop complete storylines with clear opening, build-up, problem, resolution, and ending sections. Pupils learn to plan systematically, ensuring all necessary story elements are in place before they begin drafting.

Lesson 40: Drafting the Opening and Build-up Pupils transform the first two sections of their plans into written compositions. They learn to set the scene effectively in openings and build tension in build-up sections. Pupils practise turning bullet-point plans into flowing narrative paragraphs with appropriate detail.

Lesson 41: Completing the Draft Pupils finish their first drafts by writing the problem, resolution, and ending sections from their plans. They learn to maintain consistency throughout their stories and bring narratives to satisfying conclusions. Pupils experience completing a full composition from planning through to first draft.

CHAPTER 4: Editing to Final Composition

Unit 12: Editing (Lessons 42-48)

Lesson 42: Checking Sentences and Punctuation Pupils learn systematic approaches to checking their writing for sentence structure and punctuation accuracy. They discover common errors to look for and strategies for finding and fixing problems. Pupils practise reading their work critically, checking that every sentence is complete and correctly punctuated.

Lesson 43: Improving Word Choices Pupils learn to review their writing and replace vague or repeated words with more precise and varied vocabulary. They discover how stronger word choices make writing more effective and engaging. Pupils practise identifying weak word choices and selecting better alternatives to improve their compositions.

Lesson 44: Checking Grammar and Spelling Pupils develop strategies for finding and correcting grammar and spelling errors in their writing. They learn to use their word class knowledge to check subject-verb agreement and other grammatical patterns. Pupils practise using dictionaries, word banks, and grammar knowledge to edit their work accurately.

Lesson 45: Adding and Deleting Details Pupils learn when to add more information to make meaning clearer and when to remove unnecessary details that slow the story down. They discover how to identify where readers might be confused or bored. Pupils practise revising their writing by strategically adding helpful details and removing unhelpful ones.

Lesson 46: Improving Sentence Variety Pupils review their writing to ensure they're using different sentence types and lengths. They learn to combine short, choppy sentences and break up long, confusing ones. Pupils practise creating rhythm and variety in their writing through purposeful sentence construction.

Lesson 47: Strengthening Openings and Endings Pupils learn specific strategies for improving the beginnings and endings of their compositions. They discover what makes openings grab attention and endings feel satisfying. Pupils practise revising their first and last paragraphs to make them more effective and memorable.

Lesson 48: Producing Final Copies Pupils create polished final versions of their edited compositions. They learn presentation standards including neat handwriting or typing, appropriate formatting, and error-free text. Pupils experience the satisfaction of completing the entire writing process from planning through to published final copy.

CHAPTER 5: Building Cohesion to Final Composition

Unit 13: Building Cohesion (Lessons 49-51)

Lesson 49: Using Reference Words Pupils learn to use pronouns and synonyms to refer back to previously mentioned nouns without repetition. They discover how reference words help readers track who and what the writing is about across sentences and paragraphs. Pupils practise using reference words to create flow while maintaining clarity.

Lesson 50: Connecting Ideas with Conjunctions Pupils explore how different conjunctions show different relationships between ideas (adding, contrasting, showing cause and effect, indicating time sequence). They learn to choose conjunctions purposefully to show exactly how their ideas connect. Pupils practise using varied conjunctions to link sentences and clauses effectively.

Lesson 51: Creating Flow with Adverbials Pupils learn to use adverbials (words and phrases about time, place, and manner) to connect ideas and guide readers through their writing. They discover how positioning adverbials at the start of sentences creates smooth transitions. Pupils practise using adverbials to improve the flow and clarity of multi-paragraph compositions.

CHAPTER 6: Writing for Different Purposes and Audiences

Unit 14: Non-fiction Writing (Lessons 52-60)

Lesson 52: Explanation Texts Pupils learn how to write texts that explain how something works or why something happens. They discover explanation text features including logical sequencing, present tense, and causal connectives. Pupils practise writing clear explanations using appropriate structure and language.

Lesson 53: Instruction Texts Pupils explore how to write texts that tell readers how to do something step by step. They learn instruction text features including imperative verbs, numbered steps, and time connectives. Pupils practise writing clear instructions that readers can follow successfully.

Lesson 54: Information Texts Pupils learn to write texts that present facts about topics. They discover information text features including topic sentences, factual details, and subject-specific vocabulary. Pupils practise organizing factual information clearly using headings, paragraphs, and appropriate language.

Lesson 55: Persuasive Texts Pupils explore how to write texts that convince readers to agree with an opinion or take an action. They learn persuasive text features including clear viewpoint, supporting reasons, and persuasive language. Pupils practise writing persuasively using rhetorical questions, strong arguments, and convincing evidence.

Lesson 56: Recount Texts Pupils learn to write texts that retell events that have happened. They discover recount features including chronological order, past tense, and time connectives. Pupils practise writing recounts that inform readers about events clearly and in logical sequence.

Lesson 57: Report Writing Pupils explore formal report writing with organized sections presenting information systematically. They learn report features including impersonal tone, factual language, and structured paragraphs. Pupils practise writing reports that present information objectively and professionally.

Lesson 58: Review Writing Pupils learn to write texts that evaluate books, films, products, or experiences. They discover review features including description, evaluation, and recommendation. Pupils practise writing balanced reviews that help readers make informed decisions.

Lesson 59: Biography Writing Pupils explore writing about real people's lives. They learn biography features including chronological organization, factual accuracy, and interesting details. Pupils practise writing biographies that inform and engage readers with true stories about people's lives.

Lesson 60: Autobiography Writing Pupils learn to write about their own life experiences in organized, engaging ways. They discover autobiography features including first-person perspective, personal reflection, and significant events. Pupils practise writing autobiographies that share their own stories effectively.

Unit 15: Fictional Writing (Lessons 61-62)

Lesson 61: Writing for Different Story Genres Pupils explore how different story genres (adventure, mystery, fantasy, science fiction, historical, etc.) have particular features and conventions. They learn what readers expect from each genre and how to meet those expectations. Pupils practise writing story openings for different genres using appropriate features.

Lesson 62: Writing Different Story Structures Pupils learn that stories can be structured in different ways beyond the 5-part narrative (circular stories, flashbacks, parallel plots, frame narratives). They explore how structure choices affect how readers experience stories. Pupils practise planning and writing stories using non-traditional structures.

CHAPTER 7: Project-Based Writing

Unit 16: Exploring Projects (Lessons 63-67)

Lesson 63: Exploring Writing Projects Pupils discover different types of extended writing projects they can create (books, plays, scripts, blogs, magazines, etc.). They learn what makes each project type special and which skills from WriFe lessons apply to each. Pupils explore possible project ideas that interest them personally.

Lesson 64: Planning a Writing Project Pupils learn to plan substantial writing projects systematically, breaking big goals into smaller steps. They discover how to set realistic timelines and organize complex writing tasks. Pupils create detailed plans for their chosen writing projects with clear milestones.

Lesson 65: Researching for Projects Pupils learn strategies for gathering information and ideas for their writing projects. They discover how to find reliable sources, take useful notes, and organize research materials. Pupils practise research techniques that will support their project development.

Lesson 66: Developing Projects Pupils work systematically on their writing projects, applying everything they've learned throughout the WriFe programme. They receive teacher guidance, participate in peer feedback sessions, and solve problems independently. Pupils experience sustained writing over time toward a significant goal.

Lesson 67: Celebrating Final Projects Pupils complete and present their writing projects to wider audiences. They reflect on their entire learning journey from Lesson 1 to 67, recognizing their growth as writers. Pupils celebrate their achievements and set goals for future writing.

VERSION NOTES

v2.0 Changes (November 27, 2025):

- Lesson 26: Updated from "Active versus Passive Voice" to "Paragraph Structure"
- Lesson 27: Updated from "What is a Paragraph?" to "Introduction to Connect Grid"
- Lesson 28: Added Connect Grid continuation note
- Lesson 35: Updated from "Developing a Storyline" to "Five-Part Text Analysis"
- Lesson 36: Updated from "Deconstructing a Text" to "Detailed Text Analysis" with adaptation preparation
- Lesson 37: Updated from "Adaptation" to "Summary Writing and Adaptation Preview"
- Lesson 38: Updated from "Writing a New Version" to "Adapted Story Planning"
- Lesson 38A: NEW lesson added as optional challenge pathway

These changes align with WriFe Master Framework v4.2 and incorporate the explicit adaptation methodology from the Connect Grid Progression Analysis.
